LAKSHACHANDITM
REALTY

Lakshachandi conforms to the tenets of Indian philosophy, which believes, “Homes are temples for body and spirit, places where the mind and body can be cleansed and nourished”. At Lakshachandi, five elements of nature - earth, fire, water, air and space, combine to create a harmonious balance within the home, thus enhancing the well-being, joy and good fortune of the home owner.

The “Hawan” symbol is referred to the Lakshachandi Logo. The company's name is represented in red letters. The typeface represents the solidity of the enterprise; emphasizes accountability, responsibility as being a strong and integral part of the Group's ethos. The red colour letters represents faith and good beginnings, in line with the Indian significance of the colour.

The “Fire” in the “Hawan” holds inspirational value, as it has the features of light, speed and motion. These values hold true as our ethos are clear policies, speedy development and maintaining world class standards with environmental harmony.
